What is Hiroshima Kagura

The origin of Kagura can be traced back to ancient times alongside the spread of rice cultivation as a performing art to express gratitude for bountiful harvests. The Hiroshima Kagura has uniquely evolved into a highly theatrical performing art since the Meiji era (1868–1912). With over 60 programs based on mythology like the Kojiki (Records of Ancient Matters), this art form is now expanding onto the global stage, with regular performances at the Hiroshima Prefectural Citizen's Culture Center drawing overseas visitors.
